

Good morning year 11!

My name is Kemi and I will be talking to you today about Sport Relief. I know you may be sitting there and thinking "here we go, another boring assembly..." or "all they want is more money..." but today is not that day.

Over the years many celebrities have done their part in helping fundraise money for children in need all over the world. I'm sure many of you will remember David Williams swimming the channel, a team of celebs kayaking down an African river or even Eddie Izzard's 25 marathons in 25 days. This year we are asking you to help and take part.

Now, we are not saying to go to such extremes, but there are hundreds of ideas out there which are easily accessible to you. As a school, we are doing a fancy dress funrun on the last day of term ~~and all sponsors will be given~~ and a 24hour sport lock in on the 18th March - all sponsors will be sent to the charity from the school. So you may be thinking "I'm doing something with school, why do they want us to raise more money at home?"

A small amount of money can make a massive difference to a family in need. It can provide: food, clean water, mosquito nets, supplies and uniform for a child to get an education and so much more. I know you've heard the phrase that "we take stuff for granted" a lot but it's true. I promise you there is nothing better than seeing the smile on a child's face when they are given something as basic as food to last their family a week; you could help ~~be~~ make more children in poverty smile when receiving something so basic.

So how can you help fundraise? Well the answer is simple, you can donate money via their website or by post.

Remember: grab a friend and "do something funny for money". Maybe you could show off your skills as a baker and make and sell cakes, maybe something as cliché as a sponsored silence or maybe even a sponsored bike ride?

Thank you for listening year 11, please participate in at least one fundraising event for sport relief this year. And just think, what are you going to do?

Hello, Year 11.

My name's Anna, and I'm here today to talk about Sport Relief and what we, here at Lutterworth College, are doing to support the cause in the next few weeks.

So, what is Sport Relief? As some of you may already know, Sport Relief is a charity which collects money from a range of events (not just sport related) to donate to disadvantaged people in poor countries who are living in extreme poverty. The money we raise will go towards the distribution of supplies to these people; food, drinks and hygiene products are some of the basic necessities that our ~~money~~^{cash} could go towards to ensure that people in ~~the~~ disadvantaged countries have the basics to live a ~~good~~^{better} life.

We will be hosting a range of events ~~at~~ ~~the~~ College to help raise money to go towards this fantastic cause. We've got some sporting activities going on: ~~a~~ five-a-side football, athletics events and hockey matches are a few examples of events you can take part in. But for those of you who aren't into sports, we have plenty of other things happening that ~~you~~^{you} may ~~be~~ interested ~~in~~. The ~~PE~~^{food tech} department will be hosting our very own Great Lutto Bake-off, there will be stalls selling all sorts of different treats, and of course we have the non-uniform day coming up. For the sporting and baking contests, ~~you~~ you will be required to make a donation to enter, but there are loads of fab prizes up for grabs: vouchers, football tickets, and even an iPod, to name a few. If you are interested in taking part in any of our events, there are application forms in the PE and food departments, so pop along and grab one if you ~~you~~ want to join in. ~~you~~ If you think you'd like to ~~host~~ a different event of your own, come and have a chat with me at the end of this assembly.

So, if you'd like to raise money for a brilliant, worthwhile cause, just sign up for one of our activities and make a small donation to take part. Any money will help: small change you find down the back of the couch; a few quid; maybe even a bigger donation - it all adds up.

Thank you for listening, and I hope to be seeing some of you at one of our charity events!
